

Student of month is honor roll student and Anime enthusiast

HAVERHILL – Hannah Schufreider is a sophomore at Whittier Tech who dreams of becoming an anthropologist, but for now, is hoping to start a club for Anime enthusiasts like herself.

She has submitted a proposal to administrators and hopes her recent honor of being named “Student of the Month” for June will help sway them. “It can’t hurt,” Hannah said.

The daughter of Robert and Kathleen Schufreider of Haverhill is an office technology major and an admitted “computer fanatic”. She knows her skills will come in handy in her future career as she compiles and arranges data. “There’s a big range of anthropology and I’m not sure what I want to study yet,” she said. For now, “Bones”, a popular show about forensic anthropology, is her favorite TV show. She will also continue to study Japanese language and culture through Anime.

She’s working on a newsletter – another skill she learned in Office Technology -- for other Anime enthusiasts, she said. “I know a few students who are Anime fans and I thought it might be a good idea to start a club,” she said. “For the fans, it would be a time to enjoy what we enjoy, and for newcomers it would be a chance to introduce the Japanese culture and language through Anime and Manga and other Japanese media.”

Hannah is a member of the Drama Club at Whittier and had two roles in this year’s production of “Beauty and the Beast,” as well as a role in “The Wiz” last year.

“It’s fun and it looks good on the college application,” she said. “A lot of colleges have drama clubs.”

She has earned honor roll status for three consecutive terms and hopes to make high honors this term, she said.

“Hannah’s work ethic and effort have been praiseworthy and deserve recognition,” said Frank Janowicz, her guidance counselor.
